State Mental Hygiene Chief To Lose Pay

Auditor To Remove Haines on Basis of Attorney's Opinion

COLUMBUS (AP) — Dr. Robert A. Haines may have to take legal action to collect his salary as Ohio's director of mental hygiene and correction. State Auditor James A. Rhodes advised Haines Friday that he is being dropped from the state payroll.

The auditor's action came after a ruling by Atty. Gen. William Saxbe that Haines was appointed illegally by Gov. C. William O'Neill last Sept. 23.

But O'Neill contends that the ruling does not remove Haines from office or stop him from receiving his $18,000-a-year salary.

The governor advised Haines to bring court action if his pay is stopped.

O'Neill, who was attorney general before becoming governor, said he believed Saxbe's opinions to be wrong.

O'Neill said he thinks "the governor has the power and duty to fill any vacancies which exist in his Cabinet whenever they occur. Otherwise the executive branch of the government cannot continue to function."

SAXBE'S OPINION said the governor lacks authority to make an appointment after the Legislature adjourns if:

1. The appointment requires Senate confirmation;

2. And if the vacancy existed during the regular legislative session.

The attorney general said that Haines was appointed after the Legislature adjourned to fill a vacancy that existed before adjournment. Also, appointment as director of mental hygiene and correction requires Senate confirmation, he said.

Saxbe also held that O'Neill "cannot now legally appoint a director of highways while the state Senate is in adjournment."

Continuing, Saxbe said the assistant highway director, George J. Thornmyer, has authority to perform duties of the highway chief. Charles M. Noble, secretary to the governor for highways, was to have been appointed highway director last January, after meeting (Continued on Page Two)

False Information Nets Man's Arrest

NEW YORK (AP)—A man was arrested Friday for telephoning two newspapers that a bomb was to be exploded aboard an incoming Panamanian steamship.

The newspaper caller had said a device was planted in the 14,000-ton liner Ancon, carrying 109 passengers and crew of 128, but no bomb was found.

Police said the call was traced to Matthew O'Hara, 52, a former free lance ship news cameraman, who resides in Manhattan. He was charged with transmitting false information and held on $500 bail for a hearing March 31.

Lack of Horses Algers Lion's Diet

DALLAS (AP)—Horses, the edible kind, are getting scarce, and that's going to mean some changes in the eating habits of a young lion named Mulligan.

They've decided to start feeding him meat stew instead of raw horse meat at the Dallas Zoo.

Dr. James J. Hamiter, 81-year-old veterinarian, suggested the experiment after a dealer supplying horse meat quit business.

Mulligan will be isolated for a test period. The zoo's other big cats will stay on a horse meat diet, provided by the city's one remaining supplier.

Political Squeeze Put On Ike with Price Freeze Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democrats believe they have put a political squeeze on President Eisenhower that could help them win more Senate and House seats next November.

Amid veto warnings from Republicans, the Senate sent to the White House Friday a bill to freeze farm price supports and acreage allotments at about 1957 levels for a year. The Democrats apparently think this has set up an attack on the administration's agricultural policies.

After the measure actually reaches his desk, Eisenhower will have 10 days in which to exercise his veto, if he chooses that course. Democrats hope that if a veto materializes, it will come about April 1. This is the date on which Secretary of Agriculture Benson has ordered price supports on manufacturing milk dropped from the present level of $3.25 a hundred pounds to $3.03.

If this double blow falls on the dairy farmers, Democrats are prepared to exploit the issue to the limit in congressional campaigns.

Soft Winter Wheat Loss Is Predicted

CLEVELAND (AP)—Unless soft winter wheat is put back on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's surplus list, Ohio farmers could lose several million dollars, says D. R. Stanfield, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Stanfield, who has been in Washington with other Farm Bureau representatives discussing farm problems, said efforts to convince the USDA that soft winter wheat should be on the surplus list had proved futile.

Farm commodities declared surplus can be exported by the government in exchange for foreign currency.

As of Jan. 1, an estimated five million bushels of the soft red wheat were in storage in Ohio, which is the major producer of this type wheat in the United States. The wheat is used for pastry flours.

Wheat price supports are scheduled to drop from $2 to $1.78 a bushel July 1. Stanfield contends millers are holding off on purchases of the wheat anticipating the price drop.

The USDA ban on soft red winter wheat runs through Aug. 30, and by that time, said Stanfield, the depressed price of both old and new wheat will cost Ohio farmers $8 million.

Senator Calls for Tighter Laws on Mass Picketing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today testimony in a Senate probe of the Kohler Co. strike points to the need for "some control over large labor unions that flout the law" on mass picketing.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee took somewhat the same line Friday, saying Congress should act to prevent situations in which a union can use "so many pickets" and "keep people away from their work by sheer force."

The committee has heard testimony that the United Auto Workers used mass picketing to keep the Kohler Co. plant closed in the early stages of a strike that now is nearing the four-year mark.

A court order ended the mass picketing in the spring of 1954 and the plant, at Kohler, Wis., was reopened. It is continuing to produce plumbing fixtures, hiring non-strikers and new employees.

Each side in the dispute has blamed the other for violence. The committee is trying to determine where the responsibility lies.

Ohio Senators John W. Bricker, Republican, and Frank J. Lausche, Democrat, both voted against the one-year freeze.

During debate, there were Republican charges that the Democrats were trying to embarrass the President before the congressional elections. Democrats replied that the bill is needed in the fight against the recession.

But some Democrats told a newsman they believe the dairy price support issue will provide the necessary edge to reelect Democratic Sen. Proxmire in Wisconsin. They also hope that issue will help unseat Republican Sens. Thye of Minnesota and Potter of Michigan.

Potter, who voted against the Senate's original bill to freeze farm price supports indefinitely, switched to support the revised House version which limited the freeze to one year. It was the House version that went to the White House.

They and Potter could cite their support of the freeze measure. But Democrats believe the dairy farmers would blame the Republican administration for any decline that may occur in their prices, and vote Democratic in November.

The Democrats now hold a 49-47 majority in the Senate. In the House, they outnumber the Republicans 233-198, with 4 vacancies.

The extent to which Benson's policies are in disfavor with midwestern GOP senators was shown in the 13 Republican votes which helped win final passage of the freeze bill. Thirty-five Democrats also voted for the bill.

Eastern Area Digging Out Of Devastating Blizzard

U.N. Aide Seeks To Bring About Summit Parley

Hammarskjold Heads For Soviet To Crack East-West Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold is headed for Moscow today to discuss with Russian leaders the East-West disarmament deadlock and the Soviet-proposed summit conference.

The U.N. secretary general, notably successful in sensitive missions to Red China and the Middle East, left Friday night and is scheduled to fly into Moscow Sunday. He is expected to spend all next week sounding out Soviet leaders.

Returning home, Hammarskjold plans to stop off in London several days to get the Western viewpoint.

Already he has given a pretty clear idea of his views on both issues at biweekly news conferences. In these he has shown a talent at fielding tricky questions without overstepping his neutral position. His replies are sometimes vague, but these views have emerged:

1. "It might be easier to get somewhere" on disarmament by negotiating bit by bit (the Soviet view) than through the Western package approach.

2. BOTH SIDES sincerely wish to get results on disarmament and to find some means to tackle world issues "without too much delay."

3. A summit conference would be useless "unless very carefully prepared" (Western view).

4. It would be "perfectly appropriate" to hold such a parley at the U.N. and Hammarskjold is keeping the door open.

On April 10, he will start his second five-year term, chosen unanimously by the Security Council and General Assembly. His first term was generally hailed as outstanding.

Although kept busy directing 4,000 U.N. employees, Hammarskjold has found time to head a series of ticklish missions abroad.

On instructions from the Security Council or Assembly, he has put his belief in private diplomacy into action by helping to get 11 U.S. airmen out of Red Chinese prisons, working out principles for free use of the nationalized Suez Canal, obtaining a cease-fire during the Israeli-British-French invasion of Egypt and planning the U.N. force that took over from the withdrawing invaders.

Hammarskjold was born July 29, 1905, in Jonkoping, Sweden. His isolationist father was premier during World War I.

HAMMARSKJOLD himself worked for the foreign and finance ministries and headed Sweden's delegation to the U.N. before he got his present job.

A slightly built bachelor with youthful figure and pink complexion, he works up to 14 hours a day. He makes a tax-free $55,000 a year in salary and expense allowances, has a 10-room Park Avenue apartment, rents an 80-acre country place outside New York City and owns an air-conditioned Lincoln Continental.

He likes T. S. Eliot's poetry, Bach's music, Pablo Picasso's pictures and mountain climbing.

Indonesia Shuns U.S. 'Facilities'

10 Russian Vessels OK'd by Government

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The U.S. Embassy has offered American "facilities" to the Jakarta government to protect American lives and property in revolution-torn Central Sumatra.

The embassy did not spell out what was meant by "facilities." The offer was not accepted and no harm to Americans or their property has been reported.

The statement was made in answer to a newspaper article saying the government turned down a U.S. offer to drop American paratroopers in the area of Pakanbaru. This center of operations for the U.S. Caltex Oil Co. was recaptured from the rebels by Jakarta paratroopers March 12.

An embassy spokesman specifically denied a statement in the newspaper Suluh Indonesia that it wanted to send eight helicopters into the area where there are about 600 Americans.

TEN SOVIET vessels bought by the Indonesian government were turned over today in ceremonies aboard one of the vessels at Tanjung Priok, Jakarta's port.

The transfer was the first step in economic and technical cooperation program with Russia. Rebel Interior Minister Dahlan Djambek charged Friday that the ships brought arms for the Jakarta government when they arrived earlier this week. The government has not commented on this.

Soviet crewmen will help Indonesians navigate and maintain the vessels. They were purchased to help alleviate the shipping shortage which developed after ships of the Dutch-owned KPM line were seized last December and upon release Friday were banned from the island republic.

'Know-How' Studies May Hold Hazard

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Know-how" training threatens to "dehumanize" us if our schools abandon cultural courses, says Roman Catholic Bishop John J. Wright of Worcester, Mass.

"Know-how" education has an important place in a scientific age, he said, but it must be supplemented by "know-why" education.

Major Flood Threat Feared Coming Next

Hundreds of Thousands Of Homes Still Lack Heat, Electric Power

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The battered Eastern Seaboard from Virginia to Maine struggled today to get back to normal following the most devastating snowstorm in years.

As the storm itself waned, the Weather Bureau warned that "a sudden and extensive" thaw would pose a major flood threat. The more critical flood potential areas extended from northern and eastern Pennsylvania, northeast through eastern New York State and New England.

There was no immediate indication that there would be a sudden thaw, but officials were watching the situation closely.

Hundreds of thousands of homes still are without heat and light as the storm, which started Wednesday, then made a mockery of the advent of spring Thursday night, continued into Friday before tapering off.

Power crewmen were working around the clock to restore services to the areas hardest hit by the storm—eastern Pennsylvania, most areas of New Jersey, Maryland, and New York City's Long Island suburbs.

AT LEAST 45 deaths were attributed to storm-caused exposure, electrocution, traffic accidents, and excessive exertion leading to heart attacks.

The governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey each proclaimed a state of emergency. Linemen worked through the night in Pennsylvania to clear fallen wires and restore service to about a million homes left powerless by the state's worst snow storm in 40 years.

Snow in some sections of eastern Pennsylvania reached depths up to 40 inches.

The Bell Telephone Co. estimated the cost of restoring some 130,000 telephones at more than $1 million.

Here is a summary of storm-affected areas along with a breakdown in fatality figures:

Virginia—Power restored to all but 3,000 homes in northern area. Two deaths reported.

Washington, D. C.—Better than two-thirds of 30,000 homes made powerless now have service. Up to 20 inches of snow fell in some sections.

Maryland—Slightly over 40,000 phones still out, with 3,000 linemen on job. Power service restored to some 100,000 customers. Eight deaths.

Delaware—Crewmen restoring services to 30,000 homes. Area had up to 30 inches of snow.

PENNSYLVANIA—Up to 40 inches of snow. A million homes had been without electricity—400,000 in Philadelphia alone. Eighteen deaths.

New Jersey—Telephone damage alone estimated more than $1 million. Snowfall ranged up to 35 inches. Five deaths.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry Truman, who used to wield the greatest authority in the land, will wield a baton and act as master of ceremonies tonight at a concert organized to get the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra out of the red.

Appearing with him as violin soloist will be Jack Benny. The former President, a vigorous 73-year-old who can match Benny quip for quip, will conduct the orchestra in the Star Spangled Banner and at least one other number. But Truman insists he won't play the piano.

HAMMARSKJOLD himself worked for the foreign and finance ministries and headed Sweden's delegation to the U.N. before he got his present job.

A slightly built bachelor with youthful figure and pink complexion, he works up to 14 hours a day. He makes a tax-free $55,000 a year in salary and expense allowances, has a 10-room Park Avenue apartment, rents an 80-acre country place outside New York City and owns an air-conditioned Lincoln Continental.

He likes T. S. Eliot's poetry, Bach's music, Pablo Picasso's pictures and mountain climbing.

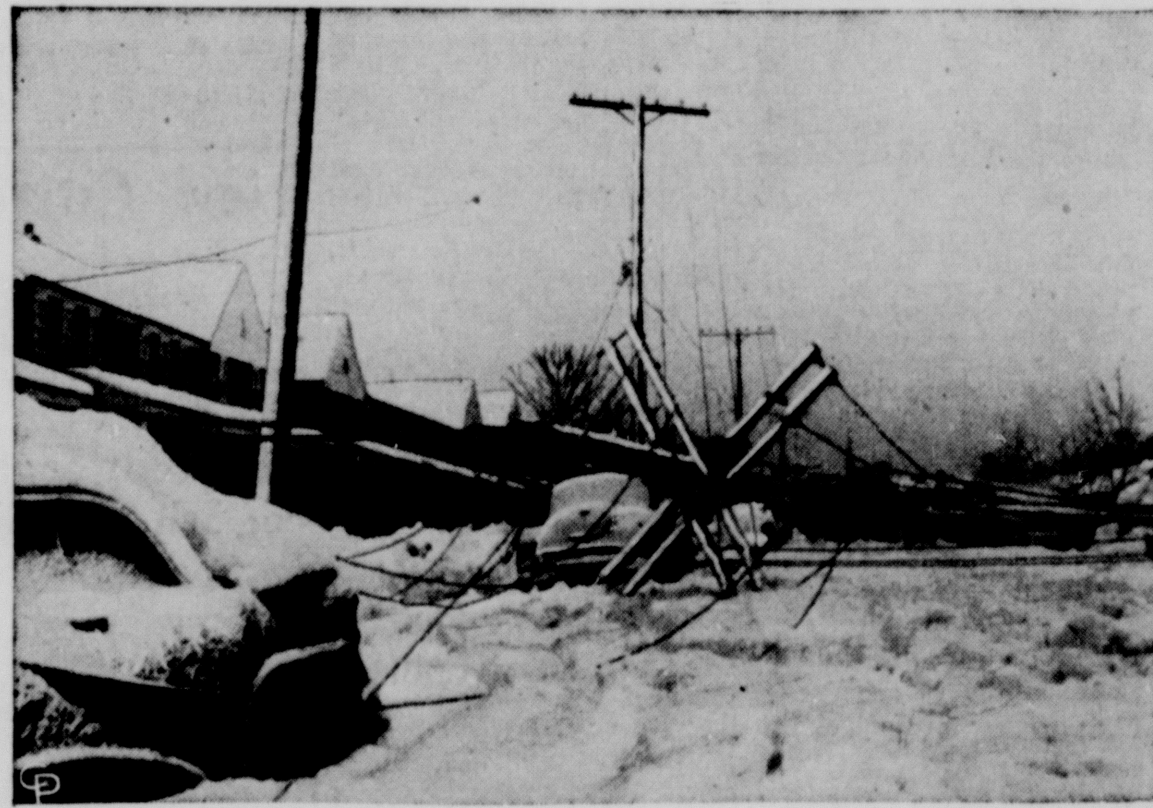

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hamilton County grand jury has ignored an election-violation charge against William F. Richter, a presiding Democratic precinct judge in a special election last fall.

The grand jury in a special report Friday said the incident, which centered on the double-Xing of a ballot, was the result of mistake and confusion and not of intentional fraud.

U.N. Aide Seeks To Bring About Summit Parley

Hammaraskjold Heads For Soviet To Crack East-West Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold is headed for Moscow today to discuss with Russian leaders the East-West disarmament deadlock and the Soviet-proposed summit conference.

The U.N. secretary general, notably successful in sensitive missions to Red China and the Middle East, left Friday night and is scheduled to fly into Moscow Sunday. He is expected to spend all next week sounding out Soviet leaders.

Returning home, Hammarskjold plans to stop off in London several days to get the Western viewpoint.

Already he has given a pretty clear idea of his views on both issues at biweekly news conferences. In these he has shown a talent at fielding tricky questions without overstepping his neutral position. His replies are sometimes vague, but these views have emerged:

1. "It might be easier to get somewhere" on disarmament by negotiating bit by bit (the Soviet view) than through the Western package approach.

2. BOTH SIDES sincerely wish to get results on disarmament and to find some means to tackle world issues "without too much delay."

3. A summit conference would be useless "unless very carefully prepared" (Western view).

4. It would be "perfectly appropriate" to hold such a parley at the U.N. and Hammarskjold is keeping the door open.

On April 10, he will start his second five-year term, chosen unanimously by the Security Council and General Assembly. His first term was generally hailed as outstanding.

Although kept busy directing 4,400 U.N. employees, Hammarskjold has found time to head a series of ticklish missions abroad.

On instructions from the Security Council or Assembly, he has put his belief in private diplomacy into action by helping to get 11 U.S. airmen out of Red Chinese prisons, working out principles for free use of the nationalized Suez Canal, obtaining a cease-fire during the Israeli-British-French invasion of Egypt and planning the U.N. force that took over from the withdrawing invaders.

Hammarskjold was born July 29, 1905, in Jonkoping, Sweden. His isolationist father was premier during World War I.

Chamber Membership Drive Swings into High Gear Here

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Membership contest got off to a flying start here yesterday. The group has set a goal of 100 new members while the contest is in swing.

The chamber has been divided into three competing teams. Ed Webb captains the Mavericks, Eldred Parsons is top man for the Roundtowners and Don Russell is guiding the Gophers.

With only one day gone in the drive the teams already have picked up about 10 per cent of their expected goal. Reports today indicated that at least 10 new members have been added to the list.

Webb's Mavericks are leading the pack with six new member candidates. The Roundtowners and Gophers, however, say they are close behind.

Each team has vowed to take the championship, so some interesting competition can be expected during the next few days of the contest.

THE hardworking teams will be working city streets and business establishments in quest of new membership for their organization. New candidates will be given a thorough explanation of the Chamber, its functions, purposes and goals.

The contest will gain incentive in that the losing team will be required to serve a meal for the winners. The second place team will provide the program during the meal.

D. E. McDonald, general chairman of the membership committee, is in charge of the campaign. The drive is expected to last one week.

Auto Crash Is Fatal to County Man

Lawrence A. Wilkins, 46, Commercial Point, was killed when his car overturned on Hoover Road about one mile north of Route 665 in Franklin County last night at 9:45 p. m.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said the victim, pinned underneath the car, suffered multiple injuries. Wilkins was riding by himself.

The auto, headed south on Hoover Road, apparently went out of control, crashed into a ditch, struck a culvert and flipped over. The vehicle was demolished Deputy Radcliff said.

The body was moved to the Franklin County morgue.

OHIOAN PLANS VISIT With Slav Wife

DOVER (AP)—Mike Zeman, 69, a retired chemical worker, is going back to Petrovitch, Yugoslavia, so he'll be with his wife for their 50th wedding anniversary.

He hasn't seen her since 1928, when he made his last visit to Yugoslavia.

Zeman came to the United States in 1910. He made a two-year visit to Yugoslavia from 1912 to 1914 and then came back to the United States without Mrs. Zeman, who had an eye infection at the time. Their daughter, now 49 and married, also stayed in Petrovitch.

Short Short-Shorts Ruled 'Too Short'

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Coeds' shorts are so short at Pierce Junior College that no one pays attention to the professors.

So, starting April 7, all trouser-like garb will be banned for 2,200 women students.

"It started with slacks and blue jeans," says Mrs. Marjorie Lord, assistant dean of student activities, "then went on to Bermuda and Jamaica shorts. When they started wearing the shortest short-shorts they could find it was too much."

New sack dresses were recommended as replacements.

Indonesia Shuns U.S. 'Facilities'

10 Russian Vessels OK'd by Government

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The U.S. Embassy has offered American "facilities" to the Jakarta government to protect American lives and property in revolution-torn Central Sumatra.

The embassy did not spell out what was meant by "facilities." The offer was not accepted and no harm to Americans or their property has been reported.

The statement was made in answer to a newspaper article saying the government turned down a U.S. offer to drop American paratroopers in the area of Pakanbaru. This center of operations for the U.S. Caltex Oil Co. was recaptured from the rebels by Jakarta paratroopers March 12.

An embassy spokesman specifically denied a statement in the newspaper Suluh Indonesia that it wanted to send eight helicopters into the area where there are about 600 Americans.

TEN SOVIET vessels bought by the Indonesian government were turned over today in ceremonies aboard one of the vessels at Tanjung Priok, Jakarta's port.

The transfer was the first step in economic and technical cooperation program with Russia. Rebel Interior Minister Dahlan Djambek charged Friday that the ships brought arms for the Jakarta government when they arrived earlier this week. The government has not commented on this.

Soviet crewmen will help Indonesians navigate and maintain the vessels. They were purchased to help alleviate the shipping shortage which developed after ships of the Dutch-owned KPM line were seized last December and upon release Friday were banned from the island republic.

There's even a "minister's federal income tax guide." The 1958 edition, by New York lawyer David Alter, is published in Great Neck, N. Y.

One of Alter's chief concerns is that the ministerial taxpayer won't view the deduction column on the form with the critical attention that is its due.

Kenneth F. Cook, writing in a National Council of Churches publication says: "The federal tax law provides numerous ways in which a minister can hold his income tax down, yet there are those men who vaguely feel there is something wrong in doing so."

"This makes as much sense as refusing change in a department store for fear someone will think you are stealing."

FUTURE COLLEGE STUDENTS May Be Shorted, Fear

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dr. Samuel Gould, president of Antioch College, says when American school enrollments double or triple in 20 years, students will overwhelm "inadequate facilities and a short supply of teachers."

He told the Ohio Adult Education Assn. conference Friday that the question today is not: "Who shall go to college?" Rather, he said it is: "Who shall not be educated to the fullest degree of his capacity to learn?"

Major Flood Threat Feared Coming Next

Hundreds of Thousands Of Homes Still Lack Heat, Electric Power

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The battered Eastern Seaboard from Virginia to Maine struggled today to get back to normal following the most devastating snowstorm in years.

As the storm itself waned, the Weather Bureau warned that "a sudden and extensive" thaw would pose a major flood threat. The more critical flood potential areas extended from northern and eastern Pennsylvania, northeast through eastern New York State and New England.

There was no immediate indication that there would be a sudden thaw, but officials were watching the situation closely.

Hundreds of thousands of homes still are without heat and light as the storm, which started Wednesday, then made a mockery of the advent of spring Thursday night, continued into Friday before tapering off.

Power crewmen were working around the clock to restore services to the areas hardest hit by the storm—eastern Pennsylvania, most areas of New Jersey, Maryland, and New York City's Long Island suburbs.

AT LEAST 45 deaths were attributed to storm-caused exposure, electrocution, traffic accidents, and excessive exertion leading to heart attacks.

The governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey each proclaimed a state of emergency. Linemen worked through the night in Pennsylvania to clear fallen wires and restore service to about a million homes left powerless by the storm's worst snow storm in 40 years. Snow in some sections of eastern Pennsylvania reached depths up to 40 inches.

The Bell Telephone Co. estimated the cost of restoring some 130,000 telephones at more than $1 million.

Here is a summary of storm-affected areas along with a breakdown in fatality figures:

Virginia—Power restored to all but 3,000 homes in northern area. Two deaths reported.

Washington, D. C.—Better than two-thirds of 30,000 homes made powerless now have service. Up to 20 inches of snow fell in some sections.

Maryland—Slightly over 40,000 phones still out, with 3,000 linemen on job. Power service restored to some 100,000 customers. Eight deaths.

Delaware—Crewmen restoring services to 30,000 homes. Area had up to 30 inches of snow.

PENNSYLVANIA—Up to 40 inches of snow. A million homes had been without electricity—400,000 in Philadelphia alone. Eighteen deaths.

New Jersey—Telephone damage alone estimated more than $1 million. Snowfall ranged up to 35 inches. Five deaths.

New York—Manhattan had official 64 inches, up to 20 inches in upstate and Long Island suburbs. Power failures about 150,000 on Long Island, cut to 16,500 early today. Seven deaths.

Connecticut—Highest snowfall measured 16 inches. Power failures very few. State escaped brunt of storm.

Massachusetts—Some 250,000 families affected during height of storm. Snowfall up to 17 inches. Rapidly digging out and returning to normal. Three deaths.

Rhode Island—Hardest hit since Hurricane Carol in 1954, but expects have most services restored by tonight. Officials watching high tides. One death.

New Hampshire—Snow tapering off but gale winds causing drifts. Motorists urged to keep off highways. One death.

Maine—Snow turned to sleet and then rain after 2 inches were on ground in southern part of state.

Former Writer Now Enjoying European Tour

Richard Randall, former staff writer for The Circleville Herald, is now touring Europe.

Randall writes that he is now in Spain where the sun shines, but it still isn't warm. He arrived in "the land of the bull-fights", after hitch-hiking for awhile in France.

Randall said he doesn't speak French very well and had to give up hitchhiking because he ended up in places he didn't want to go. The Spanish eat their main meal between two and four in the afternoon. Their evening meal isn't until nine. He said the Spaniards eat very slowly and concentrate on etiquette.

THE PRICES in Spain are very cheap according to Randall. Bread is eight cents, a haircut, 12 cents, a shave, eight cents, and a first run movie, 12 cents. A quart of wine costs a dime. Randall says the country is poor, with its hilly country and barren land.

Barcelona is an average Spanish city. It has many wide avenues where the land allows, but most of the city is on the side of mountains where some streets are not over 10 feet wide and some parts have never seen the sun because the buildings are so high.

Randall states that Americans can easily be spotted there because they tower over the miniature Spaniards, who are short and stockily built and seldom hit the six-foot mark.

Randall receives correspondence through the American Express in Paris. He is planning a tour of Italy, Greece and Yugoslavia in the near future.

State Mental

a constitutional requirement of a year's residency in Ohio.

But then Auditor Rhodes asked Saxbe to rule on the legality of Haines' appointment and of Noble's intended appointment. So Noble's appointment was held up.

AFTER SAXBE delivered his opinions Friday, Rhodes asked Saxbe to press for a "judicial determination" (court test) of the legality of Haines' appointment.

But Saxbe told Rhodes: "You asked me originally for my legal opinion, which you have now received. It is not the function of the office of attorney general to require you to act upon my advice."

"The answer to the question posed by your letter is that judicial determination will most quickly follow your acceptance of your duty."

As for that "duty," Saxbe outlined from statute the duties of an auditor. That statute reads:

"He (the auditor) shall draw no warrant on the treasurer of state for any claim (including paychecks) unless he finds it legal."

Rhodes then wrote Haines: "Pursuant to the directive from our legal adviser (Saxbe), we will not honor any payroll for your services after this date, March 21, 1958, as director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction."

Gov. O'Neill said Haines' appointment would be submitted to the Senate when the 1959 Legislature convenes.

He said Noble would continue as his secretary for highways at a salary of $30,000 annually. Rhodes could not halt Noble's pay because Noble is on the governor's office payroll.

Russian Ambassador Woos Sovereign State of Ohio

WASHINGTON — Russian Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov appears to be making a special effort to cultivate good relations with the sovereign state of Ohio.

First, he entertained 100 Republican women from the Akron area this week at the Soviet embassy. He made such an impression that one of the ladies exclaimed: "He's a doll."

Now, the ambassador is planning a trip to Cleveland in mid-April to be the guest of industrialist Cyrus Eaton.

At the same time increasing interest is developing in Congress in the possibility of exchange visits with the Soviet Union.

Just the other day, Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) said he favored such visits — even though he opposed the idea of Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev's coming to the United States.

But before any exchange trips between Americans and Soviet citizens can take place on any scale, one important item must be resolved by the State Department.

This involves the severe restrictions on travel by foreigners in the Soviet Union and by Russians in the United States. There are vast land masses in both countries where such travel is banned.

So far as Ohio is concerned, some of these restrictions appear, on their face to be rather arbitrary. Fifty — one counties are closed to travel by Soviet citizens but 37 others are open to them. By way of illustration, it is perfectly all right for a Soviet, so long as he has a passport, to visit in Adams, Geauga and Lake counties.

But he can't go to Scioto (this seems logical because of the big atomic installation in nearby Pike County), Allen and Logan counties.

Even more puzzling: He can't visit Steubenville or Youngstown but he can stop off in the counties surrounding them — Jefferson and Mahoning.

On the other hand, he can tour Canton and Cleveland but may not stop outside those cities in the counties in which the two cities are located.

A man at the State Department conceded that some of these restrictions are a little puzzling. But he said most of the curbs were ordered in retaliation against such restrictions in Russia.

The State Department has proposed that both countries abolish all travel restrictions. So far, the Russians haven't been heard from on this.

Here are the counties in Ohio where Soviet citizens with passports may travel (all others are off limits to them with the exception of the cities of Canton and Cleveland):

Adams, Brown, Clermont, Fayette, Highland, Clinton, Warren, Athens, Fairfield, Gallia, Hocking, Lawrence, Meigs, Vinton, Ashtabula, Geauga, Portage, Guernsey.

Monroe, Morgan, Noble, Perry, Washington, Tuscarawas, Coshocton, Holmes, Knox, Licking, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Harrison, Jefferson, Mahoning, Trumbull, Cuyahoga (Cleveland) and Lake.

matching the steel kitchen cabinets.

To the right of the refrigerator is a gas clothes dryer and its matching, automatic washer. Cabinets with peg board fronts are built above them. Next to the washer is a tilt-out storage bin, which also has a peg board front.

Next to the snack table is built-in counter space featuring storage drawers and a mixer well. Like the rest of the counter tops in the stage kitchen, this space is covered with white Formica.

Here's a kitchen which is called on to meet several demands—it can be "knocked down" easily and transported from place to place. It can be put to practical use, and at the same time it is an attractive model in decoration and in operative design.

Tax Report Made For Pickaway

The Pickaway County Auditor collected over $38,437.10 in intangible taxes last year according to State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Of the above figure the County Library received $28,000 or 72.8 per cent of the total amount collected. Under Ohio law, library needs have priority over all political subdivisions in the distribution of intangible tax money.

The municipalities of Pickaway County received $1,544. For many years there has been a battle at each legislative session between the cities and the libraries over the allocation of this tax money. The municipalities have tried unsuccessfully to obtain a larger share of the money.

a constitutional requirement of a year's residency in Ohio. But then Auditor Rhodes asked Saxbe to rule on the legality of Haines' appointment and of Noble's intended appointment. So Noble's appointment was held up.

AFTER SAXBE delivered his opinions Friday, Rhodes asked Saxbe to press for a "judicial determination" (court test) of the legality of Haines' appointment.

But Saxbe told Rhodes: "You asked me originally for my legal opinion, which you have now received. It is not the function of the office of attorney general to require you to act upon my advice."

"The answer to the question posed by your letter is that judicial determination will most quickly follow your acceptance of your duty."

As for that "duty," Saxbe outlined from statute the duties of an auditor. That statute reads:

"He (the auditor) shall draw no warrant on the treasurer of state for any claim (including paychecks) unless he finds it legal."

Rhodes then wrote Haines: "Pursuant to the directive from our legal adviser (Saxbe), we will not honor any payroll for your services after this date, March 21, 1958, as director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction."

Gov. O'Neill said Haines' appointment would be submitted to the Senate when the 1959 Legislature convenes.

He said Noble would continue as his secretary for highways at a salary of $30,000 annually. Rhodes cannot halt Noble's pay because Noble is on the governor's office payroll.

Russian Ambassador Woos Sovereign State of Ohio

WASHINGTON — Russian Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov appears to be making a special effort to cultivate good relations with the sovereign state of Ohio.

First, he entertained 100 Republican women from the Akron area this week at the Soviet embassy. He made such an impression that one of the ladies exclaimed: "He's a doll."

Now, the ambassador is planning a trip to Cleveland in mid-April to be the guest of industrialist Cyrus Eaton.

At the same time increasing interest is developing in Congress in the possibility of exchange visits with the Soviet Union.

Just the other day, Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) said he favored such visits — even though he opposed the idea of Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev's coming to the United States.

But before any exchange trips between Americans and Soviet citizens can take place on any scale, one important item must be resolved by the State Department.

This involves the severe restrictions on travel by foreigners in the Soviet Union and by Russians in the United States. There are vast land masses in both countries where such travel is banned.

So far as Ohio is concerned, some of these restrictions appear, on their face to be rather arbitrary. Fifty — one counties are closed to travel by Soviet citizens but 37 others are open to them.

By way of illustration, it is perfectly all right for a Soviet, so long as he has a passport, to visit in Adams, Geauga and Lake counties.

But he can't go to Scioto (this seems logical because of the big atomic installation in nearby Pike County), Allen and Logan counties.

Even more puzzling: He can't visit Steubenville or Youngstown but he can stop off in the counties surrounding them—Jefferson and Mahoning.

On the other hand, he can tour Canton and Cleveland but may not stop outside those cities in the counties in which the two cities are located.

A man at the State Department conceded that some of these restrictions are a little puzzling. But he said most of the curbs were ordered in retaliation against such restrictions in Russia.

The State Department has proposed that both countries abolish all travel restrictions. So far, the Russians haven't been heard from on this.

Here are the counties in Ohio where Soviet citizens with passports may travel (all others are off limits to them with the exception of the cities of Canton and Cleveland):

Adams, Brown, Clermont, Fayette, Highland, Clinton, Warren, Athens, Fairfield, Gallia, Hocking, Lawrence, Meigs, Vinton, Ashland, Geauga, Portage, Guernsey, Monroe, Morgan, Noble, Perry, Washington, Tuscarawas, Coshocton, Holmes, Knox, Licking, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Harrison, Jefferson, Mahoning, Trumbull, Cuyahoga (Cleveland) and Lake.

Presbyterian

"Positive Treatment of Negative Sins," is the theme of the fourth in a series of Lenten sermons to be delivered in the 10:30 a. m. hour worship at the Presbyterian Church Sunday by the Rev. Donald Mitchell.

The season of Lent is extremely valuable in its appeal to our sense of self-denial. Some take this to mean denial of some kinds of food in favor of others, or any number of material things or physical desires for a few short weeks up to Easter.

This is harmless; but it does not even begin to touch the problem of real denial of "self". True self denial is found only upon a close scrutiny of human disposition. Here we find attitudes good and evil. It is here we find that "little bit of bad in the best of us," which we prize so highly as our "secret weapons" with which we can hurt people to our own "self" satisfaction and get away with it because the "law" cannot reach us at that point!

Here is where true "self denial" should begin. Anything less is not worth mention. The burden of these Lenten sermons has been to face up to these things in our human dispositions which are contrary to the "little bit of good in the worst of us," and deny ourselves these things that war against our souls, and cause untold misery to others.

The Rev. Mitchell will read the Scriptural background for this message from the fifth chapter of Romans which speaks of the grace of Christ.

Mrs. Clark Will, director of the ministry of music in the church will direct the choir in the anthem, "The Lord Is My Light," by Allitsen. The baritone solo part will be sung by Donald E. Meyers. Mrs. Theodore L. Huston presiding at the organ will include in her music: "A Passiontide Fantasy" by Clarence Mader; "Trees" by Rasbach; and the Chopin "Postlude".

Youth - BY THE DRAWERFUL

In a nation as big as ours there is always a tendency to overlook the individual and to think only of groups. Youth gets the brunt of this generalizing.

About three percent of our boys and girls are delinquent. But some folks would have us believe that every child is a potential delinquent.

Time we realized that children aren't chicks! They don't grow up by the drawerful to have the same characteristics and habits.

Children respond to love, parental example, religious guidance. They possess an ever-increasing aptitude for responsibility, trust, and faith.

Most of our boys and girls will grow up to assume their rightful place in an orderly, Christian society. Some will populate our jails. But the destiny of the individual youth is not a matter of chance and percentage...

It is determined primarily by the conscientiousness of loving parents, and by the persistency with which his natural religious interests are cultivated.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

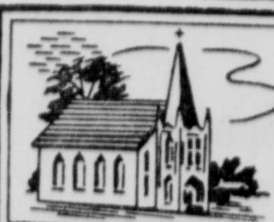

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Presbyterian

"Positive Treatment of Negative Sins," is the theme of the fourth in a series of Lenten sermons to be delivered in the 10:30 a.m. hour worship at the Presbyterian Church Sunday by the Rev. Donald Mitchell.

The season of Lent is extremely valuable in its appeal to our sense of self-denial. Some take this to mean denial of some kinds of food in favor of others, or any number of material things or physical desires for a few short weeks up to Easter.

This is harmless; but it does not even begin to touch the problem of real denial of "self." True self denial is found only upon a close scrutiny of human disposition. Here we find attitudes good and evil. It is here we find that "little bit of bad in the best of us," which we prize so highly as our "secret weapons" with which we can hurt people to our own "self" satisfaction and get away with it because the "law" cannot reach us at that point!

Here is where true "self denial" should begin. Anything less is not worth mention. The burden of these Lenten sermons has been to face up to these things in our human dispositions which are contrary to the "little bit of good in the worst of us," and deny ourselves these things that war against our souls, and cause untold misery to others.

The Rev. Mitchell will read the Scriptural background for this message from the fifth chapter of Romans which speaks of the grace of Christ.

Mrs. Clark Will, director of the ministry of music in the church will direct the choir in the afternoon, "The Lord Is My Light," by Allitsen. The baritone solo part will be sung by Donald E. Meyers. Mrs. Theodore L. Huston presiding at the organ will include in her music: "A Passiontide Fantasy" by Clarence Mader; "Trees" by Rasbach; and the Chopin "Postlude".

Youth-By The Drawerful

In a nation as big as ours there is always a tendency to overlook the individual and to think only of groups. Youth gets the brunt of this generalizing.

About three percent of our boys and girls are delinquent. But some folks would have us believe that every child is a potential delinquent.

Time we realized that children aren't chicks! They don't grow up by the drawerful to have the same characteristics and habits.

Children respond to love, parental example, religious guidance. They possess an ever-increasing aptitude for responsibility, trust, and faith.

Most of our boys and girls will grow up to assume their rightful place in an orderly, Christian society. Some will populate our jails. But the destiny of the individual youth is not a matter of chance and percentage...

It is determined primarily by the conscientiousness of loving parents, and by the persistency with which his natural religious interests are cultivated.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hungarians' Boast Answered

Last December, when the United States was talking to the United Nations General Assembly about the communist terror that followed the revolt in Hungary, Hungarian representatives said it was all hypocritical lies, propaganda and slander.

If the United States had been "really interested in current events" in Hungary, they said, it would have tried to find out through the "proper channels." They obviously didn't expect to be taken up on that. They knew the U. S. would be wasting its time if it tried to get a truthful version of events from the puppet government of Hungary.

But the State Department did take them up on it. Since December Washington has sent a whole series of letters to Budapest asking for information about the fate of 24 prominent Hungarians who have disappeared into limbo—among them former Premier Nagy, former Defense Minister General Malater, former Chief of Staff General Kovacs, and Colonel Nador, head of the Air Force.

There has been no answer to these repeated inquiries through "proper channels." Now the United States is telling the world that it took Hungary up on her suggestion and nothing happened. In the words of Ambassador Lodge:

"If they do not answer our questions they will actually acknowledge themselves guilty of the worst things that have been said about them."

4-Point Plan For Teachers Is Proposed

LANCASTER — A four-point program of teacher benefits was proposed here by Michael V. DiSalle, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"The solution of the teacher shortage depends on reducing the size of classes, protecting the teacher tenure laws, continuing to improve our state teacher retirement system, and above all, bringing about a condition where salaries are high enough to make it unprofitable to quit teaching to work in industry," DiSalle told a group here.

His proposal: Review the Ohio teacher pension law passed during the 1955 General Assembly to investigate inequities and assure that all retired teachers benefit equally; Make provision for terminal pay for reasons other than retirement; Inaugurate a limited system of sabbatical leave for experienced teachers; And start a program of medical insurance for teachers.

Missing Program Upsets Writer By George Sokolsky

Last Sunday, I pursued my habit of tuning in the television at 6 p. m. to listen to "Meet the Press," a program that sometimes raises my blood-pressure because the guests are so blunt or so skillful in evading the questions of the newspapermen, who sometimes ask wrong or immature questions. At all times, I find it a most informative period.

At any rate, one reason that we have more than one television set in this house is that no one should prevent me from listening to "Meet the Press," by tuning in a cowboy who must kill a villain, the way cowboys have been killing villains on the stage forever and a day.

So, last Sunday there was no "Meet the Press." Instead there was something else. I spent maybe 10 minutes fiddling about, looking for "Meet the Press" on the air-waves. No can find. So I turned the darn thing off and would not listen to a single singing act about how one cigarette captures more tar than another.

Then, when we telephoned to inquire what happened we were told that "the time was preempted by the Bell Telephone Hour, which ran from 5:30 to 6:30. This happens once in a while, not often 'Meet the Press' will be on next Sunday." I should worry about next Sunday. Here is another program preempting a whole hour on the television to interfere with a good program to which many Americans look forward. Maybe I am all wrong about pay television, as thousands of citizens have written to say. They claim that they cannot afford to pay for the sets and then for the shows. Well, if they can't afford to pay, we shall have to go on being interrupted by a girl singing on the perfections of beer and a he-man talking about fancy linens in the washing machine.

But neither the network nor the telephone company does itself any good when it pushes off a program that people wait to see. The argument can be used that as I do not pay for the program I ought to be satisfied with what I get. Actually, I cannot exactly tell you what program I got because all that I seemed to get was an excited professor talking about one-celled animals which may have been interesting to a kid who was preparing for college entrance examinations except that around these parts the exams were held the day before.

I have seen other stunts like this on radio and television. For instance, one of my favorite radio commentators is Quincy Howe, with whom I agree on very little. I find him stimulating, largely because he presents most ably a point of view with which I do not hold. It is what might be called the internationalist point of view.

Few present that side with knowledge, historical background, and balanced thought. Quincy Howe does. Most speakers on that side, I find to be either special pleaders or starry-eyed liberals who repeat slogans and cliches. It is good to listen to a mature, educated, literate adversary.

In a word, from Quincy Howe, I can learn something. Therefore I want to listen to him. But he has disappeared from my radio. Instead a pitchman is on for 15 minutes selling a book about how to get rich by reading a book. He must know and the radio people must know that no-body ever got rich by reading such a book. To his pitch, one can only put the question: why don't you read the book yourself and get richer than the Rockefeller? Old John D. never got rich by reading a pitchman's book, although he would probably have been interested in knowing what pitchmen were doing, his father, William Rockefeller, having been one of the breed; but he sold medicine instead of a book.

Anyhow, I cannot hear Quincy Howe any more because his time has been pre-empted by a pitchman. Television and radio are making a mistake by this kind of programming, because what with FCC scandals, the high cost of sets, the move for pay television and the destruction of the motion picture industry, television and radio are in the news and are attracting attention to purposes and practices. It requires a little intelligence to operate a public institution in stormy times to prevent the government from pre-empting it.

Aspirin Helpful for Diabetes

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
When we think of aspirin, we generally think of it only as a cure for headaches or sore throats.

Actually, this very common drug, found in almost every home, is used in the treatment of many serious medical disorders.

For a long time, we have recognized its importance in treating rheumatic fever and rheumatoid arthritis.

Many doctors prefer the use of aspirin, for rheumatic fever, over some of the newer wonder drugs. In fact, a three-year study conducted recently revealed that aspirin was as effective as cortisone in therapeutic value and in its effect on the progress of rheumatoid arthritis.

In mild to moderate cases, some doctors advise aspirin as "the drug of choice." And most recommend it as an adjunct with other anti-rheumatic agents in more severe cases.

In treating rheumatoid arthritis, large doses of aspirin probably are advisable. In fact one doctor recommends dosage "just short of the point of tolerance."

We have reason to believe that aspirin may be valuable in treating diabetes mellitus.

century, some medical reports indicated aspirin was effective in combating diabetes. But few doctors have done much additional investigating along this line.

Recently, however, a British medical team conducted an intensive two-weeks course of therapy on seven diabetic patients using pure aspirin alone.

The physicians report the blood sugar and urine levels of all seven were restored to normal. In addition they say, all clinical symptoms of the disease such as thirst,

A poll of more than 1,000 executives revealed that nearly 99 out of 100 said they weren't afraid to speak up to the boss. That figure is understandable, since most of those questioned are the boss.

A midwest high school instructor in traffic safety was nabbed for speeding. A case of teacher playing hooky?

Two Kentucky school boys unearthed a jar containing $2,700—earthed in Confederate money. Didn't make them rich—but it sure gave them a history lesson.

A Missourian was found suffering from frostbite in his unheated, one-room shack in which he had stashed a fortune totaling $11,327. That's a lot of cold cash—even if some of it was in bonds and postal savings certificates.

In view of the virtual certainty that letter postage will go to four or five cents, Zadok Dumpoff asks what ever became of that old saw—"A penny for your thoughts?"

Postal authorities in Syracuse, N. Y., reveal someone there put trading stamps instead of official postage on a letter. It had to happen!

An Iowa city has stopped charging its city jail inmates a $1 fee for fingerprinting. Seems that an Iowa state law definitely puts thumbs down on the idea.

Hungarians' Boast Answered

Last December, when the United States was talking to the United Nations General Assembly about the communist terror that followed the revolt in Hungary, Hungarian representatives said it was all hypocritical lies, propaganda and slander.

If the United States had been "really interested in current events" in Hungary, they said, it would have tried to find out through the "proper channels." They obviously didn't expect to be taken up on that. They knew the U. S. would be wasting its time if it tried to get a truthful version of events from the puppet government of Hungary.

But the State Department did take them up on it. Since December Washington has sent a whole series of letters to Budapest asking for information about the fate of 24 prominent Hungarians who have disappeared into limbo—among them former Premier Nagy, former Defense Minister General Malety, former Chief of Staff General Kovacs, and Colonel Nador, head of the Air Force.

There has been no answer to these repeated inquiries through "proper channels." Now the United States is telling the world that it took Hungary up on her suggestion and nothing happened. In the words of Ambassador Lodge:

"If they do not answer our questions they will actually acknowledge themselves guilty of the worst things that have been said about them."

Missing Program Upsets Writer By George Sokolsky

Last Sunday, I pursued my habit of tuning in the television at 6 p. m. to listen to "Meet the Press," a program that sometimes raises my blood-pressure because the guests are so blunt or so skillful in evading the questions of the newspapermen, who sometimes ask wrong or immature questions. At all times, I find it a most informative period.

At any rate, one reason that we have more than one television set in this house is that no one should prevent me from listening to "Meet the Press," by tuning in a cowboy who must kill a villain, the way cowboys have been killing villains on the stage forever and a day.

So, last Sunday there was no "Meet the Press." Instead there was something else. I spent maybe 10 minutes fiddling about, looking for "Meet the Press" on the air-waves. No can find. So I turned the darn thing off and would not listen to a single singing ad about how one cigarette captures more tar than another.

Then, when we telephoned to inquire what happened we were told that "the time was pre-empted by the Bell Telephone Hour, which ran from 5:30 to 6:30. This happens once in a while, not often "Meet the Press" will be on next Sunday."

I should worry about next Sunday. Here is another program pre-empting a whole hour on the television to interfere with a good program to which many Americans look forward. Maybe I am all wrong about pay television, as thousands of citizens have written to say. They claim that they cannot afford to pay for the sets and then for the shows. Well, if they can't afford to pay, we shall have to go on being interrupted by a girl singing on the perfections of beer and a he-man talking about fancy linens in the washing machine. But neither the network nor the telephone company does it sell any good when it pushes off a program that people wait to see. The argument can be used that as I do not pay for the program I ought to be satisfied with what I get. Actually, I cannot exactly tell you what program I got because all that I seemed to get was an excited professor talking about one-celled animals which may have been interesting to a kid who was preparing for college entrance examinations except that around these parts the exams were held the day before.

I have seen other stunts like this on radio and television. For instance, one of my favorite radio commentators is Quincy Howe, with whom I agree on very little, I find him stimulating, largely because he presents most any point of view with which I do not hold. It is what might be called the internationalist point of view.

Few present that side with knowledge, historical background, and balanced thought. Quincy Howe does. Most speakers on that side, I find to be either special pleaders or starry-eyed liberals who repeat slogans and clichés. It is good to listen to a mature, educated, literate adversary.

In a word, from Quincy Howe, I can learn something. Therefore I want to listen to him. But he has disappeared from my radio. Instead a pitchman is on for 15 minutes selling a book about how to get rich by reading a book. He must know and the radio people must know that nobody ever got rich by reading such a book. To his pitch, one can only put the question: why don't you read the book yourself and get richer than the Rockefeller? Old John D. never got rich by reading a pitchman's book, although he would probably have been interested in knowing what pitchmen were doing, his father, William Rockefeller, having been one of the breed; but he sold medicine instead of a book.

Anyhow, I cannot hear Quincy Howe any more because his time has been pre-empted by a pitchman.

Television and radio are making a mistake by this kind of programming, because what with FCC scandals, the high cost of sets, the move for pay television and the destruction of the motion picture industry, television and radio are in the news and are attracting attention to purposes and practices. It requires a little intelligence to operate a public institution in stormy times to prevent the government from pre-empting it.

Aspirin Helpful for Diabetes

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
When we think of aspirin, we generally think of it only as a cure for headaches or sore throats.

Actually, this very common drug, found in almost every home, is used in the treatment of many serious medical disorders.

For a long time, we have recognized its importance in treating rheumatic fever and rheumatoid arthritis.

Many doctors prefer the use of aspirin, for rheumatic fever, over some of the newer wonder drugs. In fact, a three-year study conducted recently revealed that aspirin was as effective as cortisone in therapeutic value and in its effect on the progress of rheumatoid arthritis.

In mild to moderate cases, some doctors advise aspirin as "the drug of choice." And most recommend it as an adjunct with other antirheumatic agents in more severe cases.

In treating rheumatoid arthritis, large doses of aspirin probably are advisable. In fact one doctor recommends dosage "just short of the point of tolerance."

We have reason to believe that aspirin may be valuable in treating diabetes mellitus.

Way back around the turn of the century, some medical reports indicated aspirin was effective in combating diabetes. But few doctors have done much additional investigating along this line.

Recently, however, a British medical team conducted an intensive two-weeks course of therapy on seven diabetic patients using pure aspirin alone.

The physicians report the blood sugar and urine levels of all seven were restored to normal. In addition they say, all clinical symptoms of the disease such as thirst,

4-Point Plan For Teachers Is Proposed

LANCASTER, Pa. — A four-point program of teacher benefits was proposed here by Michael V. DiSalle, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"The solution of the teacher shortage depends on reducing the size of classes, protecting the teacher tenure laws, continuing to improve our state teacher retirement system, and above all, bringing about a condition where salaries are high enough to make it unprofitable to quit teaching to work in industry," DiSalle told a group here.

His proposal:
Review the Ohio teacher pension law passed during the 1955 General Assembly to investigate inequities and assure that all retired teachers benefit equally;
Make provision for terminal pay for reasons other than retirement;
Inaugurate a limited system of sabbatical leave for experienced teachers;

And start a program of medical insurance for teachers.

Mrs. Otto Guest Speaker For Pickaway Garden Club

Mrs. J. R. Otto, of Chillicothe, was speaker for the Pickaway Garden Club when the group met Thursday evening in the Presbyterian social rooms. Mrs. Otto, an accredited state and national show judge, spoke on flower show practices.

"Local garden clubs, by careful planning, can stage amateur flower shows that will bring pleasure and distinction to the community as well as to the club," Mrs. Otto said. She gave pointers on the naming of committees, how to secure judges, the duties of chairmen and visitors, and how to plan an award-winning theme for the show.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Charles Thompson, the following were voted into membership: Mrs. John Montgomery, Mrs. David S. Craven, Mrs. William Cox and Mrs. Louis Carter.

The proposal by the Association of Women's Clubs to consider the purchase of a certain property in the downtown area was vetoed by the group as being unsuitable. Plans were discussed for taking steps to replace shrubbery at the memorial roadside park north of Circleville on Route 23. Mrs. Schubert Measmer, co-chairman of the Exhibit Committee, outlined plans for the annual Rose Show in June to be staged by the club and some advance plans for the State Fair garden show in the fall.

The April 24 meeting will be a carry-in supper at the Lutheran Parish House, with husbands invited. Mr. Reed A. Masse, landscape gardener for the Ohio Historical Society, will speak on the restoration of the gardens at Adena.

An exhibit of arrangements for club members was displayed, each one featuring a figurine. Awards were made to the following: Mrs. Thompson, 1st; Mrs. James Moffitt, 2nd; Mrs. L. E. Foreman 3rd. Refreshments were served from a tea table with a spring theme. Giant jonquills and pussy willows were used as the centerpiece balanced with large, green, twisted-roped candles in Roseville pottery holders. The hand-crocheted lace cloth had been made by Mrs. James Scott.

Mrs. E. E. Porter was chairman of the hostess committee, assisted by Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. Charles Hull, Mrs. J. O. Eagleson and Miss Florence Hoffman.

Mrs. Giovinazzo Presents Program on Greek Cookery

Mrs. Dominic Giovinazzo presented a program on Greek cookery to the Gourmet Study group of American Assn. of University Women. Mrs. E. A. Smith, 424 S. Court St., was hostess to the group when it met Wednesday evening.

Elly, as she is known to her friends, presented a program on hospitality and food specialties found in the Greek home. Greek cookery is time consuming and very rich. Almonds are used in desserts and favors. Olive oil is always a part of the salad dressing.

Garlic is the favorite herb for seasoning of meats and salads and sesame seeds for baking. Lamb is always used for the Easter dinner. A cake-like bread with a new coin inserted is eaten on New Year's day for luck, with the person receiving the coin being specially blessed.

Casserole dishes of stuffed peppers, cabbage rolls, and pilaf are favorites. Relish dishes usually contain black olives, tiny peppers, and cheese. Meats are usually roasted and often basted with a rich tomato sauce prepared separately.

Almonds wrapped in bits of veiling are used as favors both of the wedding party and the engagement party, seven for the engagement and five for the wedding.

A visitor in a Greek home is served a small glass of wine and a fruit hors d'oeuvre.

EUB Class Have Easter Style Parade

Members of the Willing Workers Class of the Pontious EUB Church were dressed in wearing apparel for an Easter parade when they met in the home of Mrs. Boyd Ramsey, 202 Eastmore Ave., Thursday. Some of the members had made hats of paper plates and doliies which they wore.

Mrs. Sterling Croman was in charge of devotions using an Easter theme. "I Will Sing the Wondrous Story" and "The Lily of the Valley" were sung by the group. The scripture lesson was taken from the fourth chapter of Ephesians. Mrs. Larry Goodman gave a prayer.

Mrs. Goodman presided over the business session. A report was given on the sewing project for the class by Mrs. Jacob Glitt. One day a month will be set aside to sew for the project.

Mrs. Georgia Walker gave a report on one of the "Great Women of the Bible." At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess. The April meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Floy Brobst, Route 4.

Windows Brightened By Novel Dressings

They're just the loveliest things you ever saw! We're talking about the new airy window curtains which are pretty as petticoats with lots of ruffles, interesting flocking, scalloped edges, pleating and embroidery.

The trend right now seems to be the eye-catching type of window curtain. This is true regardless of how much elegant simplicity may set the decorative trend in other parts of the room.

For the most part, these latest versions of an old favorite use plain fabric for the body of the curtain. The fluffy fluff is reserved for the edging.

Marquiesette in a man-made version is probably the homemaker's first choice. It certainly looks nice in the bedroom, giving a crisp, snowy-clean air to the room.

Golden threads sometimes decorate these curtains, which come in either ecru or white. Ruffles are deep and generous, making the curtains look far more expensive than they actually are.

Aside from their beauty, these curtains are easy to keep clean and fresh. All they need is a turn in the washing machine. They don't look as though they could withstand such treatment but they can. They're sturdier than you think. And no ironing is needed! What a pleasure it is to live with dainty, beautiful fabrics that tax neither your time nor effort! Even if the price were many times what it is, these curtains would still be worth it.

While we're window dressing, give a thought to some new wooden lattice shades that are both colorful and decorative. Using these shades, you can dispense entirely with draperies and never miss them.

They roll up like any traditional type of window shade. They're made of narrow wooden slats and come in the most beautiful colors and designs.

We've seen them in turquoise threaded with white and gold used in a white-walled living room. They're available in deep, rich brown threaded with white. One shade with pale pink and white slats is threaded with pale pink. Very dramatic is a vivid tangerine shade threaded with white.

The stores and manufacturer assure shoppers that the shades can be swabbed clean with a sudsy sponge. They're that practical! They aren't overly expensive either. If you're in the mood to perk up the living room—or any room, for that matter—consider these new lattice shades.

Mrs. Adkins Hostess for Group No. C

Mrs. Robert Adkins, 144 Montclair Ave., was hostess to 16 members of Group No. C of the Women's Association, Presbyterian Church, when they met in her home on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Adkins presiding.

Mrs. Orin Dresbach was in charge of devotionals which she took from Luke 9-verses, 23-26. In her prayer Mrs. Dresbach mentioned the workers in the Mission Field of Central Africa and in the home field of Cumberland, Md. Mrs. Mitchell, spoke of the need of warm bedding in our local mission field at Lowery Lane Mission Church.

The Program: "The study of Dr.

Be sure to turn mattresses — both lengthwise and from side to side — for a smooth sleeping surface and longer wear.

Luke as a physician." Different miracles of the bible were presented and discussed by different members of the Group, with Mrs. Ed. Grigg, as Moderator.

Mrs. Adkins was assisted by Mrs. Howard Orr and Mrs. H. B. Given.

Mrs. Otto Guest Speaker For Pickaway Garden Club

Mrs. J. R. Otto, of Chillicothe, was speaker for the Pickaway Garden Club when the group met Thursday evening in the Presbyterian social rooms. Mrs. Otto, an accredited state and national show judge, spoke on flower show practices.

"Local garden clubs, by careful planning, can stage amateur flower shows that will bring pleasure and distinction to the community as well as to the club," Mrs. Otto said. She gave pointers on the naming of committees, how to secure judges, the duties of chairmen and visitors, and how to plan an award-winning theme for the show.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Charles Thompson the following were voted into membership: Mrs. John Montgomery, Mrs. David S. Craven, Mrs. William Cox and Mrs. Louis Carter.

The proposal by the Association of Women's Clubs to consider the purchase of a certain property in the downtown area was vetoed by the group as being unsuitable. Plans were discussed for taking steps to replace shrubbery at the memorial roadside park north of Circleville on Route 23. Mrs. Schubert Measamer, co-chairman of the Exhibit Committee, outlined plans for the annual Rose Show in June to be staged by the club and some advance plans for the State Fair garden show in the fall.

The April 24 meeting will be a carry-in supper at the Lutheran Parish House, with husbands invited. Mr. Reed A. Masse, landscape gardener for the Ohio Historical Society, will speak on the restoration of the gardens at Adena.

An exhibit of arrangements by club members was displayed, each one featuring a figurine. Awards were made to the following: Mrs. Thompson, 1st; Mrs. James Moffitt, 2nd; Mrs. L. E. Foreman 3rd. Refreshments were served from a tea table with a spring theme. Giant jonquils and pussy willows were used as the centerpiece balanced with large, green, twisted-ropes candles in Roseville pottery holders. The hand-crocheted lace cloth had been made by Mrs. James Scott.

Mrs. E. E. Porter was chairman of the hostess committee, assisted by Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. Charles Hull, Mrs. J. O. Eagleson and Miss Florence Hoffman.

Mrs. Giovinnazzo Presents Program on Greek Cookery

Mrs. Dominic Giovinnazzo presented a program on Greek cookery to the Gourmet Study group of American Assn. of University Women. Mrs. E. A. Smith, 424 S. Court St., was hostess to the group when it met Wednesday evening.

Elly, as she is known to her friends, presented a program on hospitality and food specialties found in the Greek home. Greek cookery is time consuming and very rich. Almonds are used in desserts and favors. Olive oil is always a part of the salad dressing.

Garlic is the favorite herb for seasoning of meats and salads and sesame seeds for baking. Lamb is always used for the Easter dinner. A cake-like bread with a new coin inserted is eaten on New Years day for luck, with the person receiving the coin being specially blessed.

Casserole dishes of stuffed peppers, cabbage rolls, and pilaf are favorites. Relish dishes usually contain black olives, tiny peppers, and cheese. Meats are usually roasted and often basted with a rich tomato sauce prepared separately. Almonds wrapped in bits of veiling are used as favors both of the wedding party and the engagement party, seven for the engagement and five for the wedding.

A visitor in a Greek home is served a small glass of wine and a fruit hors d'oeuvre.

EUB Class Have Easter Style Parade

Members of the Willing Workers Class of the Pontious EUB Church were dressed in wearing apparel for an Easter parade when they met in the home of Mrs. Boyd Ramsey, 202 Eastmore Ave., Thursday. Some of the members had made hats of paper plates and dollies which they wore.

Mrs. Sterling Croman was in charge of devotions using an Easter theme. "I Will Sing the Wondrous Story" and "The Lily of the Valley" were sung by the group. The scripture lesson was taken from the fourth chapter of Ephesians. Mrs. Larry Goodman gave a prayer.

Mrs. Goodman presided over the business session. A report was given on the sewing project for the class by Mrs. Jacob Glitt. One day a month will be set aside to sew for the project.

Mrs. Georgia Walker gave a report on one of the "Great Women of the Bible." At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess. The April meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Floy Brobst, Route 4.

Windows Brightened By Novel Dressings

They're just the loveliest things you ever saw! We're talking about the new airy window curtains which are pretty as petticoats with lots of ruffles, interesting flocking-scaled edges, pleating and embroidery.

The trend right now seems to be the eye-catching type of window curtain. This is true regardless of how much elegant simplicity may set the decorative trend in other parts of the room.

For the most part, these latest versions of an old favorite use plain fabric for the body of the curtain. The fluffy fluff is reserved or the edging.

Marquessette in a man-made version is probably the homemaker's first choice. It certainly looks nice in the bedroom, giving a crisp, snowy-clean air to the room.

Golden threads sometimes decorate these curtains, which come in either ecru or white. Ruffles are deep and generous, making the curtains look far more expensive than they actually are.

Aside from their beauty, these curtains are easy to keep clean and fresh. All they need is a turn in the washing machine. They don't look as though they could withstand such treatment but they can. They're sturdier than you think. And no ironing is needed! What a pleasure it is to live with dainty, beautiful fabrics that tax neither your time nor effort! Even if the price were many times what it is, these curtains would still be worth it.

While we're window dressing, give a thought to some new wooden lattice shades that are both colorful and decorative. Using these shades, you can dispense entirely with draperies and never miss them.

They roll up like any traditional type of window shade. They're made of narrow wooden slats and come in the most beautiful colors and designs.

We've seen them in turquoise threaded with white and gold used in a white-walled living room. They're available in deep, rich brown threaded with white. One shade with pale pink and white slats is threaded with pale pink. Very dramatic is a vivid tangerine shade threaded with white.

The stores and manufacturer assure shoppers that the shades can be swabbed clean with a sudsy sponge. They're that practical! They aren't overly expensive either. If you're in the mood to perk up the living room—or any room, for that matter—do consider these new lattice shades.

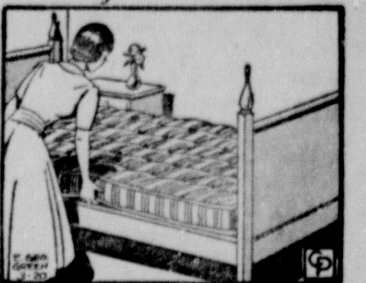

Mrs. Adkins Hostess for Group No. C

Mrs. Robert Adkins, 144 Montclair Ave., was hostess to 16 members of Group No. C of the Women's Association, Presbyterian Church, when they met in her home on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Adkins presiding.

Mrs. Orin Dresbach was in charge of devotionals which she took from Luke 9-verses, 23-26. In her prayer Mrs. Dresbach mentioned the workers in the Mission Field of Central Africa and in the home field of Cumberland, Md. Mrs. Mitchell, spoke of the need of warm bedding in our local mission field at Lowery Lane Mission Church.

The Program: "The study of Dr.

Be sure to turn mattresses — both lengthwise and from side to side — for a smooth sleeping surface and longer wear.

Luke as a physician." Different miracles of the bible were presented and discussed by different members of the Group, with Mrs. Ed. Grigg, as Moderator. Mrs. Adkins was assisted by Mrs. Howard Orr and Mrs. H. B. Given.

Students Vie For Spots in State Finals

Sixteen members of the Pickaway Twp. Science Club today were displaying proudly their science projects at the annual District Science Day at the Ohio State Fairgrounds, Buckeye Building.

The projects, which range from the manufacture of lipstick to a study of man and animal, are the result of year-long preparation by the Science Club. The group meets evenings and the projects were made out of school. Mrs. Robert Mills is advisor.

The projects will be judged today. Those winning superior ratings will compete in the state Science Day program at Akron, April 4. Seniors are eligible for college scholarships if they win.

Mrs. Mills, who will be a judge for the district program today, said the annual science program is to encourage and publicize science work in high schools.

Members of the Science Club include Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, Route 1, Kingston, who is making a comparison of animal habits and man's adaptations of them.

PETER SMITH, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Smith, Kingston, is constructing the skeleton of a dog. Bruce Wilson, is making a display showing past and present hydroelectric models, including water-wheel, grindstone and dynamo. He's the son of Dr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson, Route 1.

Janice Hockman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hockman, Route 1, is preparing a research paper on the circulatory system.

Patty Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watson, Route 1, is completing a two-year study of leaves and stems of plants.

Lack of Civil Service Tests Is Questioned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) says that members of the Ohio Civil Service Commission will be asked to explain why thousands of state employees have not been given examinations for their jobs.

Cloud said he will act in his capacity as chairman of a legislative committee studying state personnel problems. The committee is a branch of the Legislative Service Commission which Cloud also heads.

The commission makes recommendations to the Legislature for changes in state laws.

Cloud noted complaints that the Civil Service Commission failed to receive adequate appropriations from the Legislature to conduct complete examinations. But the House speaker added that the commission had turned back more than $200,000 in unspent appropriations over the last six years.

Civil Service Commission spokesmen have estimated that it might cost as much as two million dollars to complete all the examinations necessary for state employees who have not taken examinations but are carried on the payroll as provisional appointees.

The Legislature appropriated about $650,000 for the commission for the current two-year period. Commissioners estimated that possibly 15,000 of the state's 40,000 employees have not taken civil service tests. They said examinations have been started to cut that total at least in half during the next few months.

Only Unbeaten Teams Remain In Cage Test

But Biggest Story Is Middletown, Finally Defeated

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in history, four unbeaten teams play today in the finals of Ohio's Class A and Class AA high school basketball championship tournament.

But the big story is not who is playing for the Class AA crown, but who is not.

That would be Middletown, its 76-game winning streak and two-year reign halted 63-62 Friday night by an inspired Columbus North quintet which went all the way without a substitution. A hook shot by junior Eddie Clark, with only three seconds to play, nailed the victory.

As a result, Columbus North meets Cleveland East Tech tonight for the Class AA crown. The Scarabs eased into the finals with a 53-47 victory over Zanesville's 1926 and 1955 champions.

In this afternoon's Class A title contest, Northwestern of Wayne County, with a 28-0 record, goes against Bucyrus Holmes-Liberty, which has grabbed 25 in a row. The same mark is boasted by both Class AA contenders.

Holmes-Liberty was an impressive 59-46 victor over Pleasantville, and Northwestern canned 19 of 26 free throws to outlast Dixie of Montgomery County 69-55.

A record throng of 27,685 watched Friday's two sessions. The new opening day total probably will push the tourney to a record, eclipsing the 52,994 of a year ago.

Middletown's startling loss for the third time halted Middletown's attempt to win three straight championships—leaving that record in the hands of Floyd Stahl's Dayton Stivers teams of 1928-29-30.

It also wrecked the hopes of Jerry Lucas of going unbeaten through his scholastic career, and of Middletown Coach Paul Walker to snag his sixth title in 12 years.

Lucas was held to the lowest total in his five-game tournament career, but he managed to sink 25 points to lead all players in the semi-final games. For his 25 games this year, the 6-10 three-time All-Ohio star scored exactly 800 points for an on-the-nose average of 32, and hiked his 77-game career mark to 2,460 for a 31.94 mark.

The Middies went into the final quarter against North with a 48-43 edge, but the aggressive Polar Bears, controlling the backboards and fast-breaking like racehorses, came on to take a 59-54 edge with 1:36 to play.

Lucas hit for two field goals, and teammate Larry Emrick for one, to pull the Middies to a 60-61 deficit with 10 seconds to go.

At that point Tom Sizer of the

Middletown Gone, but Not Forgotten

COLUMBUS (AP)—Having beaten Middletown, something no other high school team has been able to do for 76 games, will Columbus North High's Polar Bears tend to look at tonight's game with Cleveland East Tech as an anti-climax?

Well, conceded North High Coach Frank Truitt Friday night, "people won't remember who won the 1958 championship; they'll only remember who beat Middletown."

But Truitt sobered and added: "The boys will be 'up.' You can count on that."

North captain Dan Wherry admitted he almost gave up with 10 seconds to go when Tom Sizer put Middletown in the lead with two free throws. But Truitt said: "I didn't. I knew we still would do it somehow."

The locker room of the Middletown Middies, who saw their chance for a third straight state title vanish in the 63-62 final score, was quiet.

Coach Paul Walker simply said: "The better team won out there tonight; they outshot us and out-scraped us. Our turnovers (loss of the ball through mistakes) killed us."

Warriors Ready For Celtic Tilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"It all depends on our rebounding. If we can hold Bill Russell, we've got a chance against Boston."

So remarked Coach George Senesky of the Philadelphia Warriors a few hours before his team collided with the Celtics tonight at Philadelphia's Convention Hall in their National Basketball Assn. Eastern playoffs.

Boston leads 1-0 in the best-of-seven series, winning the opener at the Boston Garden on Wednesday 107-98. Russell grabbed 25 rebounds and scored 18 points in that game.

Middies calmly dropped a pair of free throws into the hoop for a 62-61 edge, and it looked as if the champs had pulled another one out of the fire, as they did in last year's semi-finals with Toledo Macomber.

But North took a time out, massed its forces for one last fling, and sent Clark in for the winning score. As Middletown's hopes went out the window the St. John Arena crowd, most of them pulling for the underdog, went wild.

It was the end of an era, crumbling the greatest cage dynasty the state has ever boasted. After it was over some of the Middie fans sat as if stunned, as if they couldn't believe it.

Jack Landes of North, with 23 points, almost matched Lucas' total, and his 10 points in the final quarter turned the tide. North actually won it from the free throw line, cashing 17 of 24 while the Middies made 10 of 14. The defending champions had a 26-23 edge in field goals, taking 58 shots to North's 48.

Cleveland East Tech built up a six-point edge over Zanesville in the first half and then played even the rest of the way in ousting the Blue Devils. Scoring was well distributed, with Ken Glenn and Lemoyne Porter of East Tech, and Mervin McCoy and Jeff Prindle of Zanesville tying for the top at 13 each.

No Cleveland quintet has ever won the Class AA crown, and only one Columbus team has ever triumphed — Columbus East snatching the pennant in 1951.

Northwestern and Holmes-Liberty also are newcomers to the big time scene. One thing is certain, both new champions will be unbeaten—the fifth unsullied king in Class A, and the ninth in Class AA. Three of Middletown's seven champions were unbeaten, including those of the last two years.

Don and Jerry Schiefer, red-haired and bespectacled brothers, were the big guns for Holmes-Liberty, the former scoring 22 points and the latter 16 in the win over Pleasantville. Buddy Miller, son of the Pleasantville coach, paced the losers with 21.

Larry Deffenbaugh, a husky point-getter deluxe and as good a rebounder as the tournament has seen in some time, led Northwestern with 22 points. Larry Martin topped the losing Dixie Greyhounds with 18, just ahead of All-Ohio Gary Gearhart who contributed 16.

Akins Wins Bout; DA Also Is Victor

NEW YORK (AP)—Virgil Akins' sixth round technical knockout of Cuba's Isaac Logart shared the spotlight today with the surprise action of the district attorney's men in serving more than a dozen subpoenas to boxing figures after the fight at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Akins, a power punching, 30-year old veteran from St. Louis, earned a fight with Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., for the vacant welterweight title by stopping the shifty Cuban in 2:53 of the sixth round with a blazing rally.

Trailing 4-1 on the scorecards of the three officials, Akins let loose with both barrels in the sixth to floor the 24-year-old Logart twice and have him on the verge of another knockdown when Referee Harry Kessler halted the massacre.

"I'm going to take care of Martinez the same way—maybe quicker," Akins said after he had demolished the 2-1 favorite.

Shortly after the fight ended, Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan's office said "more than a dozen" boxing figures, including matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club, were served with subpoenas.

A spokesman for the D.A. said the subpoenas were issued for appearances as witnesses in an investigation "that has been going on for some time." He declined to elaborate.

Arizona Boy Sets Shotput Record

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Dallas Long, a North Phoenix High School senior, Friday heaved the 16-pound shot 55 11½ feet, breaking the unofficial national high school record.

The 245-pound Long made the record-breaking toss at the Ninth Annual Glendale Invitational Relays for Arizona prep track teams. It eclipsed the old mark of 53 4¾ set last June 1 by Mike McKeever.

Long didn't even come close to winning when the Flyers were runnersup in 1951, 1952, 1955 and 1956. They were defeated by 11 or more points in each game.

Flyers Dread Runnerup Spot For 5th Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Five times the Dayton Flyers have reached the finals of the National Invitation basketball tournament and four times they have been thwarted. Will they overcome this hex today on their fifth try?

An expected 10,000 and a national television afternoon audience (CBS) will get the answer as the top-seeded Flyers face dangerous Xavier of Cincinnati for the championship in Madison Square Garden.

Dayton didn't even come close to winning when the Flyers were runnersup in 1951, 1952, 1955 and 1956. They were defeated by 11 or more points in each game.

Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn moans, "I dread finishing second again. Four times in second is a very frustrating experience."

This year Dayton turned back Fordham 74-70 in the quarter finals and St. John's (N.Y.) 80-56 in the semis to boost its season's won-lost record to 25-3. Two of the victories came at the expense of Xavier, 74-59 and 64-58.

The Cincinnati Musketeers, despite an 18-11 season mark, have displayed tremendous improvement since those setbacks, however.

They upset Niagara 95-86, Bradley's defending champions 72-62 and St. Bonaventure 72-53.

Only Unbeaten Teams Remain In Cage Test

But Biggest Story Is Middletown, Finally Defeated

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in history, four unbeaten teams play today in the finals of Ohio's Class A and Class AA high school basketball championship tournament.

But the big story is not who is playing for the Class AA crown, but who is not.

That would be Middletown, its 76-game winning streak and two-year reign halted 63-62 Friday night by an inspired Columbus North quintet which went all the way without a substitution. A hook shot by junior Eddie Clark, with only three seconds to play, nailed the victory.

As a result, Columbus North meets Cleveland East Tech tonight for the Class AA crown. The Scarabs eased into the finals with a 53-47 victory over Zanesville's 1926 and 1955 champions.

In this afternoon's Class A title contest, Northwestern of Wayne County, with a 28-0 record, goes against Bucyrus Holmes-Liberty, which has grabbed 25 in a row. The same mark is boasted by both Class AA contenders.

Holmes-Liberty was an impressive 59-46 victor over Pleasantville, and Northwestern canned 19 of 26 free throws to oust favored Dixie of Montgomery County 69-55.

A record throng of 27,685 watched Friday's two sessions. The new opening day total probably will push the turnout to a record, eclipsing the 32,994 of a year ago.

Middletown's startling loss for the third time halted Middletown's attempt to win three straight championships—leaving that record in the hands of Floyd Stahl's Dayton Stivers teams of 1928-29-30.

It also wrecked the hopes of Jerry Lucas of going unbeaten through his scholastic career, and of Middletown Coach Paul Walker to snag his sixth title in 12 years.

Lucas was held to the lowest total in his five-game tournament career, but he managed to sink 25 points to lead all players in the semi-final games. For his 25 games this year, the 6-10 three-time All-Ohio star scored exactly 800 points for an on-the-nose average of 32, and hiked his 77-game career mark to 2,460 for a 31.94 mark.

The Middies went into the final quarter against North with a 48-43 edge, but the aggressive Polar Bears, controlling the backboards and fast-breaking like racehorses, came on to take a 59-54 edge with 1:36 to play.

Lucas hit for two field goals, and teammate Larry Emrick for one, to pull the Middies to a 60-61 deficit with 10 seconds to go.

At that point Tom Sizer of the

Middletown Gone, but Not Forgotten

COLUMBUS (AP)—Having beaten Middletown, something no other high school team has been able to do for 76 games, will Columbus North High's Polar Bears tend to look at tonight's game with Cleveland East Tech as an anti-climax? Well, conceded North High Coach Frank Truitt Friday night, "people won't remember who won the 1958 championship; they'll only remember who beat Middletown." But Truitt sobered and added: "The boys will be 'up.' You can count on that."

North captain Dan Wherry admitted he almost gave up with 10 seconds to go when Tom Sizer put Middletown in the lead with two free throws. But Truitt said: "I didn't. I knew we still would do it somehow."

The locker room of the Middletown Middies, who saw their chance for a third straight state title vanish in the 63-62 final score, was quiet.

Coach Paul Walker simply said: "The better team won out there tonight; they outshot us and out-scraped us. Our turnovers (loss of the ball through mistakes) killed us."

Warriors Ready For Celtic Tilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"It all depends on our rebounding. If we can hold Bill Russell, we've got a chance against Boston."

So remarked Coach George Senesky of the Philadelphia Warriors a few hours before his team collided with the Celtics tonight at Philadelphia's Convention Hall in their National Basketball Assn. Eastern playoffs.

Boston leads 1-0 in the best-of-seven series, winning the opener at the Boston Garden on Wednesday 107-98. Russell grabbed 25 rebounds and scored 18 points in that game.

Middies calmly dropped a pair of free throws into the hoop for a 62-61 edge, and it looked as if the champs had pulled another one out of the fire, as they did in last year's semi-finals with Toledo Macomber.

But North took a time out, massed its forces for one last fling, and sent Clark in for the winning score. As Middletown's hopes went out the window the St. John Arena crowd, most of them pulling for the underdog, went wild.

It was the end of an era, crumbling the greatest cage dynasty the state has ever boasted. After it was over some of the Middle fans sat as if stunned, as if they couldn't believe it.

Jack Landes of North, with 23 points, almost matched Lucas' total, and his 10 points in the final quarter turned the tide. North actually won it from the free throw line, cashing 17 of 24 while the Middies made 10 of 14. The defending champions had a 26-23 edge in field goals, taking 58 shots to North's 48.

Cleveland East Tech built up a six-point edge over Zanesville in the first half and then played even the rest of the way in ousting the Blue Devils. Scoring was well distributed, with Ken Glenn and Lemoyne Porter of East Tech, and Mervin McCoy and Jeff Prindle of Zanesville tying for the top at 13 each.

No Cleveland quintet has ever won the Class AA crown, and only one Columbus team has ever triumphed—Columbus East snatching the pennant in 1951.

Northwestern and Holmes-Liberty also are newcomers to the big time scene. One thing is certain, both new champions will be unbeaten—the fifth unsullied king in Class A, and the ninth in Class AA. Three of Middletown's seven champions were unbeaten, including those of the last two years.

Don and Jerry Schiefer, red-haired and bespectacled brothers, were the big guns for Holmes-Liberty, the former scoring 22 points and the latter 16 in the win over Pleasantville. Buddy Miller, son of the Pleasantville coach, paced the losers with 21.

Larry Deffenbaugh, a husky point-getter deluxe and as good a rebounder as the tournament has seen in some time, led Northwestern with 22 points. Larry Martin topped the losing Dixie Greyhounds with 18, just ahead of All-Ohio Gary Gearhart who contributed 16.

Despite the 13,300 seats available in the Arena, tickets were at a premium and scalpers had a field day at the opening sessions. The $1.50 ducats were going for $5 at the afternoon Class A event, and $20 for the Class AA scraps.

Local Sheriff's Department Handles Variety of Cases

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
Herald Staff Writer

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department completed another busy year during 1957 in upholding law and order in this area.

A yearly report submitted by Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff gives an extensive breakdown of the varied and many duties conducted by his department during the year.

One of the biggest jobs at the local office on W. Franklin St. was the handling of 899 prisoners in the jail. At times during the year the number of "guests" at the jail almost reached an overflow level.

At one stretch several months ago the local bastille almost burst at the seams when a record 57 prisoners jammed all three floors. Sheriff Radcliff said this represented the largest number of prisoners ever housed at the jail.

TO MAKE matters worse it was during this time that an old-fashioned saw-blade jail break was attempted. Some alert action by the sheriff and his deputies prevented the bold try.

The large number of prisoners presented quite a problem to Mrs. Sadie Radcliff, the sheriff's wife, matron and head cook. During this time the jail kitchen resembled an army mess hall but Mrs. Radcliff and her assistants always managed to prepare their usual appetizing meals.

The big job of feeding inmates is fully realized by the fact that 31,587 meals were served during 1957. The cost amounted to $9,965.50.

Another important item of business was investigating automobile accidents. In all the department was called to investigate 408 crashes on area highways.

In this number of crashes approximately 262 persons suffered injuries while four were killed. The four fatal accidents represent quite a drop from the 1956 high of 22 recorded here. The sheriff and his deputies were well pleased with this marked improvement on highway safety.

The sheriff and his busy staff traveled 128,400 miles delivering papers, serving warrants and completing investigations. This mileage was recorded on the county's two cruisers and the sheriff's personal car. Distance traveled by deputies in their own cars and own expense was not recorded.

A BREAKDOWN on papers and warrants delivered are as follows: warrants, 55; summons, 289; notices, 240; capias, seven; subpoenas, 78; citations, seven; garnishments, 57; executions, 91; affidavits, 13.

Along with his other pressing business the sheriff found time to conduct nine official sales with money received amounting to $352,090.65.

The department also conveyed 38 prisoners to penal institutions outside Pickaway County. A breakdown on the transfers were: Ohio State Penitentiary, 15; Ohio State Reformatory, eight; Ohio State Hospital, six; Lima State Hospital, six; Columbus Workhouse, three.

In addition to auto accident calls, the department also conducted investigations on 353 other varied and sometimes interesting incidents. This phase of duty was led by 102 thefts and 61 breaking and entering cases. The assortment of investigations were: Vandalism, 25; dog bites, five;

suicide, 1; attempted suicide, four; missing persons, 10; accidental shootings, six; fires, 31; recovering cars, six; natural deaths, two; safe burglaries, four; strong armed robberies, two; personal injuries, 16; stolen cars, 25; prowlers, five; dog thefts, five; assaults, three; intentional shootings, one; attempted burglaries, two; rescued from river, one; attempted homicide, one; recovered skull, one; illegal card game, one; miscellaneous investigations, 34.

Sheriff Radcliff and his staff usually found themselves working under a busy and demanding schedule answering urgent calls and performing routine duties. Many a night deputies get off regular duty at 2 in the morning only to be called back on an accident or other tragic incidents.

AS THE sheriff has often said, "the law must be upheld" 24 hours a day, seven days a week with holidays included. The local department accepts this fact as a matter of routine duty.

Sheriff Radcliff, commonly known as the "dean of Ohio Sheriffs" is now on his 28th consecutive year in office here. This mark stands unsurpassed in the state. The easy-going head lawman can spin many a yarn on the harrowing and sometimes humorous incidents which have taken place during his tenure. "Some have been tragic, some pleasant and others just plain disgusting," he is quick to add.

The veteran force of deputies is headed by Dwight Radcliff, the sheriff's son. Like his father, the hardworking deputy is well acquainted with the procedures of upholding the law in Pickaway County.

In addition to his regular duties, Deputy Radcliff serves as department photographer. His jail basement studio has proven a valuable asset in producing pictures for evidence and for records.

The other deputies include Robert Hoover, Charles Felkey and John Wolford, all veteran officers here. Hoover and Felkey are regular deputies while Wolford con-finest most of his duties to operating the jail office radio which is the vital nerve center for cruisers on patrol.

six years service in the sheriff's courthouse office. The efficient clerk often is referred to as the sheriff's fifth deputy.

As past records indicate, Pickaway County residents can rest assured that law and order will be maintained here 24 hours a day. An urgent telephone call or a quick summons usually means that local department members are on their way to the scene of trouble.

Life expectancy for the average American worker is now 69 years. This is almost 4 years better than in 1948.

Deputy Takes Wild Ride in Making Arrest

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Carlos L. Whitman's drive along U. S. 40 east was a little unsettling Friday.

Whitman said he was driving along when he noticed a man walk out of a Springfield tavern, hop into his car and pull into the roadway on the wrong side of the four-lane divided highway.

The deputy said he tried to get the other car to pull over, but the driver was having none of that. Instead, Whitman related, the other driver stepped on the gas and led Whitman on a nightmarish 15-mile eastward chase at speeds up to 110 m.p.h., all of it in the wrong lane.

Oncoming motorists, presumably petrified, lost little time in pulling off the road to let the whizzing autos by.

Whitman said he finally fired a shot into the trunk of the other auto, and brought it to a halt at Brighton.

The driver, Everett R. McPherson, 52, of near Springfield, was arrested and charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

He pleaded innocent. He was released on $500 bond pending a hearing in municipal court Tuesday.

key and Robert Hoover. The sheriff and his staff handled a variety of cases in 1957 ranging from fatal traffic accidents to investigating dog bites. The department works under a schedule which calls for law enforcement 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Local Sheriff's Department Handles Variety of Cases

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
Herald Staff Writer

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department completed another busy year during 1957 in upholding law and order in this area. A yearly report submitted by Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff gives an extensive breakdown of the varied and many duties conducted by his department during the year.

One of the biggest jobs at the local office on W. Franklin St. was the handling of 899 prisoners in the jail. At times during the year the number of "guests" at the jail almost reached an overflow level.

At one stretch several months ago the local bastille almost burst at the seams when a record 57 prisoners jammed all three floors. Sheriff Radcliff said this represented the largest number of prisoners ever housed at the jail.

TO MAKE matters worse it was during this time that an old-fashioned saw-blade jail break was attempted. Some alert action by the sheriff and his deputies prevented the bold try.

The large number of prisoners presented quite a problem to Mrs. Sadie Radcliff, the sheriff's wife, matron and head cook. During this time the jail kitchen resembled an army mess hall but Mrs. Radcliff and her assistants always managed to prepare their usual appetizing meals.

The big job of feeding inmates is fully realized by the fact that 31,587 meals were served during 1957. The cost amounted to $9,965.50.

Another important item of business was investigating automobile accidents. In all the department was called to investigate 408 crashes on area highways.

In this number of crashes approximately 262 persons suffered injuries while four were killed. The four fatal accidents represent quite a drop from the 1956 high of 22 recorded here. The sheriff and his deputies were well pleased with this marked improvement on highway safety.

The sheriff and his busy staff traveled 128,400 miles delivering papers, serving warrants and completing investigations. This mileage was recorded on the county's two cruisers and the sheriff's personal car. Distance traveled by deputies in their own cars and own expense was not recorded.

A BREAKDOWN on papers and warrants delivered are as follows: warrants, 55; summons, 289; notices, 240; capias, seven; subpoenas, 78; citations, seven; garnishments, 57; executions, 91; affidavits, 13.

Along with his other pressing business the sheriff found time to conduct nine official sales with money received amounting to $352,090.65.

The department also conveyed 38 prisoners to penal institutions outside Pickaway County. A breakdown on the transfers were: Ohio State Penitentiary, 15; Ohio State Reformatory, eight; Ohio State Hospital, six; Lima State Hospital, six; Columbus Workhouse, three.

In addition to auto accident calls, the department also conducted investigations on 353 other varied and sometimes interesting incidents. This phase of duty was led by 102 thefts and 61 breaking and entering cases. The assortment of investigations were:

Vandalism, 25; dog bites, five;

suicide, 1; attempted suicide, four; missing persons, 10; accidental shootings, six; fires, 31; recovering cars, six; natural deaths, two; safe burglaries, four; strong armed robberies, two; personal injuries, 16; stolen cars, 25; prowlers, five; dog thefts, five; assaults, three; intentional shootings, one; attempted burglaries, two; rescued from river, one; attempted homicide, one; recovered skull, one; illegal card game, one; miscellaneous investigations, 34.

Sheriff Radcliff and his staff usually found themselves working under a busy and demanding schedule answering urgent calls and performing routine duties. Many a night deputies get off regular duty at 2 in the morning only to be called back on an accident or other tragic incidents.

AS THE sheriff has often said, "the law must be upheld" 24 hours a day, seven days a week with holidays included. The local department accepts this fact as a matter of routine duty.

Sheriff Radcliff, commonly known as the "dean of Ohio Sheriffs" is now on his 28th consecutive year in office here. This mark stands unsurpassed in the state.

The easy-going head lawman can spin many a yarn on the harrowing and sometimes humorous incidents which have taken place during his tenure. "Some have been tragic, some pleasant and others just plain disgusting," he is quick to add.

The veteran force of deputies is headed by Dwight Radcliff, the sheriff's son. Like his father, the hardworking deputy is well acquainted with the procedures of upholding the law in Pickaway County.

In addition to his regular duties Deputy Radcliff serves as department photographer. His jail basement studio has proven a valuable asset in producing pictures for evidence and for records.

The other deputies include Robert Hoover, Charles Felkey and John Wolford, all veteran officers here. Hoover and Felkey are regular deputies while Wolford con-finer most of his duties to operating the jail office radio which is the vital nerve center for cruisers on patrol.

THE DEPUTIES usually put in long work hours when activity comes at a fast and furious pace. In the past during pressing investigations they have worked as high as 85 and 90 hours a week, much of it on their own time.

Mrs. Radcliff is another important figure on the staff. In addition to her duties as matron and head cook, she often operates the radio like a veteran and receives incoming phone calls when the sheriff and deputies are out on emergencies. She is assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. Ethel Brintlinger who has served many years as a cook in local establishments.

The man-sized job of keeping records, handling telephone calls and answering the radio during daytime hours is handled by Mrs. Helen Strous, a veteran of six years service in the sheriff's courthouse office. The efficient clerk often is referred to as the sheriff's fifth deputy.

As past records indicate, Pickaway County residents can rest assured that law and order will be maintained here 24 hours a day. An urgent telephone call or a quick summons usually means that local department members are on their way to the scene of trouble.

Life expectancy for the average American worker is now 69 years. This is almost 4 years better than in 1948.

Deputy Takes Wild Ride in Making Arrest

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Carlos L. Whitman's drive along U. S. 40 east was a little unsettling Friday.

Whitman said he was driving along when he noticed a man walk out of a Springfield tavern, hop into his car and pull into the roadway on the wrong side of the four-lane divided highway.

The deputy said he tried to get the other car to pull over, but the driver was having none of that. Instead, Whitman related, the other driver stepped on the gas and led Whitman on a nightmarish 15-mile eastward chase at speeds up to 110 m.p.h., all of it in the wrong lane.

Oncoming motorists, presumably petrified, lost little time in pulling off the road to let the whizzing autos by.

Whitman said he finally fired a shot into the trunk of the other auto, and brought it to a halt at Brighton.

The driver, Everett R. McPherson, 52, of near Springfield, was arrested and charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

He pleaded innocent. He was released on $500 bond pending a hearing in municipal court Tuesday.
